JERSON PENA MUNDOC is an aspiring young business enthusiast from Pagadian City, Zamboanga del Sur. He once dreamt to establish a recruitment business to cater the volume demand of manpower in terms of skilled and semi-skilled workers overseas. Believing that he could supply this demand with the current high unemployment rate and the Filipino people's lack of access to opportunities to be able to work in the Motherland. The dream got realized when he finally owned and managed not only one recruitment agency but was blessed being approved to have two.

Being a tourist traveler, Jerson already enjoyed exploring different places and meeting people within 38 countries in the world that he traveled to. His travel experiences gave him the chance to see and observe firsthand the realities of life of the Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) that he had met in his travels. This also made him realize how important his role is as the owner of a manpower agency by being able to provide sustainable jobs to his "kababayans".

Currently, this gentleman has provided the needed supply to overseas manpower demands for not only skilled and semi-skilled workers but also household workers throughout the foreign countries allowed by the Philippine laws for manpower deployment. In pursuit of supplying the high demands for Filipino workers abroad and to help alleviate the lives of some Filipino families from poverty, Jerson's companies are offering jobs free from deployment costs with free food and accommodations to the applicant workers coming from the provinces outside Metro Manila.

Jerson prides himself to be a man of a wide vision and as a man of humility, a loving son, a good provider to his siblings, a loyal friend and a trustworthy business partner. He is blessed not only with the financial security that he is enjoying now but also because he has won the hearts of his family members; the very people whom he could lean on during his low moments. Moreover, he has a lot of good friends who helped him push through his dreams to reach the peak of his successful business endeavor.

Consequently, his siblings are now joining his cause to uplift the lives of some Filipinos who are willing to be deployed and work abroad. They are now his partners in the management of his two manpower agencies namely JPM88 International Manpower Services Corp. and Surejobs International Manpower Agency Co. and they are continuously devoted in providing the best and dignified jobs around the world.

Quoted from the great British, Benjamin Desraeli, "the secret of success is to be ready when his opportunity comes." Surely, Jerson Pena Mundoc proved it right when he undoubtedly grasped the opportunity leading to the realization of his dreams to own and manage his own company and help others.
